

HAITIAN-DOMINICAN FRIENDSHIP CONCERT

ENRIQUILLO TEJADA y LOS CLARINETES MÁGICOS and TABOU COMBO

Wednesday, May 16, 2012

7 pm - 9 pm, FREE!

Baird Auditorium

National Museum of Natural History

10th St. & Constitution Ave. NW, Washington, DC

(Use Constitution Avenue Entrance)

Join the National Museum of African Art and the Smithsonian Latino Center in a celebration of the music of the Dominican Republic and Haiti in a friendship concert that presents the African-derived musical traditions of the two island countries. Enriquillo Tejada y Los Clarinetes Mágicos will perform an opening set of merengues, boleros, and Latin jazz, followed by Tabou Combo, who will close the show with konpa and Haitian méringue music.

Organized with the generous support of the Embassy of Haiti, the Embassy of the Dominican Republic, the Global Foundation for Democracy and Development, and the Dominican Republic Tourist Board.

View the live webcast of this concert by visiting <http://latino.si.edu/newsevents/webcasts.htm>

